Madi's Musings

This Sunday 9/13 the youth are invited to a special Bring Your Own Treat Zoom Party.

This is a time for us to gather, some of us meet for the first time, share a treat, and reunite after the Longest Spring Break ever.

Bring your best treat and get in the running for a surprise Gift Card hint There will definitely be more than just one gift card (;

Whether that be a big bowl of cereal, the hottest hot fudge sundae, or a fancy brookie, I want to see what you like to snack on.

Zoom link will be available on the Weatherly Youth Facebook page on Sunday.

THE DISCOVERY HOUR

discovering God's purpose for our lives

Our Discovery Hour classes resume on September 20. This fall we have two book studies available to our members. The first is a continuation from last spring with Leslie Kaiura, and the second is a new study led by new member Terri Womack. Both studies will help us discover new depths to our faith and our relationships.

Dr. Leslie Kaiura will resume her study of Holy Envy: Finding God in the Faith of Others. This book looks into the world's great religions, digging out the true, good, and beautiful from each one.

Terri Womack will lead a discussion on Changing Our Mind, a biblical study of the Christian response to persons in the LGBTQ+ communities.

Both studies will occur on Sunday evenings over Zoom. Once you have decided which discussion you want to participate in, please call the office to register.

Worship News for This Sunday

Fifteenth Sunday after Pentecost
On Not Holding onto Grudges

Exodus 14:9-31; Matthew 18:21-35

"I just can't turn it loose," you say. "What he did to me was so mean." That's a grudge. It simmers, builds, and eats away at you. It doesn't hurt the one who was mean to you, but it damages you in many ways. The pastor will talk about how to turn loose of grudges next Sunday. We will also install new deacons. Please join us and tell a friend or neighbor about our YouTube service.
